Cookie Policy

A clear, plain-language explanation of what cookies are, which ones we use, and how you can control them.

What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. They are widely used to make websites work, or work more efficiently, and to provide information to the site owners.

Cookies can be "persistent" or "session" cookies. Persistent cookies remain on your device for a set period or until you delete them. Session cookies are deleted as soon as you close your browser.

How We Use Cookies

These cookies help us understand how visitors interact with our website by collecting and reporting information anonymously — for example, which pages are most visited and whether users encounter errors. We use this data to improve the site experience.

Functional Cookies·Duration: Up to 1 year

Functionality

These cookies allow the website to remember choices you make — such as your language preference or the region you're in — and provide enhanced, more personal features. They may be set by us or by third-party providers whose services we've added to our pages.

Opt-Out Tools

You can opt out of certain analytics cookies using industry tools such as the Network Advertising Initiative opt-out page.

Your browser may have a 'Do Not Track' setting. We honour DNT signals where supported by our tools and services.
